Best Practices I

Title of the Practice: Continual Improvement in Educational Processes through ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System

Objectives

- To define precise quality criteria for all activities of the college.
- To define educational procedures so as to ensure that quality standards are met.
- To systematically monitor procedures for conformance.
- To identify and analyze the causes of non-conformances.
- To eliminate the causes giving way to problems through appropriate corrective actions.
- To eliminate repetition of the same causes through root cause analysis and preventive actions.

The context

The purpose of 'Quality Management System' is to build a capacity in an institution to identify and remove variations in different functional aspects. It can be achieved by creating a well-thought action plan and implementing it in letter and spirit. This can help to pursue the quality that would ultimately lead to satisfaction of the stakeholders. It is a conscious and a continuous process aiming at excellence. With a Quality Management System in place, an institution evolves internal processes for self-analysis and assessment enabling 'self-monitoring' for quality improvement which leads to develop a 'quality culture' in the institution.

The Practice:

Students in particular continue to remain the focal point for developing the Quality Management System for the college. The students' satisfaction is a goal to be achieved by offering them focused and value-based quality education. The System works with proper planning which is implemented and is further checked for any variances and non-conformances that are eventually put in place through preventive and corrective actions. It includes all the functional areas of the college like planning, instruction and delivery, office administration, examination, library, extra-curricular activities, purchase, accounts and internal services like housekeeping. The System is supported by the documents like the quality manual, procedures manual, flow charts on processes and record tables. Different activities to be undertaken are included in a planner while the evidence is generated through the use of formats developed for various processes i. e. teaching plan, teaching report etc. The System ensures both internal and external quality evaluation. To achieve this, two internal audits and one surveillance audit is conducted every year. Three management review meetings are conducted. In these audits, close scrutiny of the procedures, records and other details of the system requirements are analyzed. Non-conformities are identified and vacated which results in continual improvement and better performance in the activities undertaken.

In this way, the ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System encompasses all the aspects of the college and ensures pursuance of excellence in various practices

Impact of the practice

The implementation of ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System has helped in identifying various processes thus bringing clarity in the working of the college and working towards delegation of authority and responsibility. The system ensures identification of records, maintenance, traceability and retrieval of the information. The strong student-focus proves beneficial for the students. The feedback loop offers opportunity for continual progress. The system has brought a positive change in the work culture through the training of human resources, establishing a team work culture and bringing favorable change in the attitude of the employees. The implementation of the system has supported the college to align itself with the NAAC vision.

Obstacles faced and strategies to overcome them:

- The amount of time and efforts required from the staff and faculty is a major concern.
- Resistance from the employees for change was a major hurdle.
- The certification is not capable of generating funds from external bodies such as accreditation boards, Ministry of Human Resource, government and University Grants Commission.

The NAAC vision emphasizes upon making quality the defining element of the higher education and adopting self and external quality evaluation as measures for promotion and sustenance of quality initiatives. The ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System acts like a stepping stone towards NAAC accreditation/reaccreditation. The internal audits facilitate self-evaluation; surveillance audits facilitate external evaluation thus embedding continual quality improvement as a quality initiative leading the institution towards achieving excellence. Acceptance of the ISO 9001:2015 Standard makes quality the defining element of the college education system.

Resources Required:

- Requirement of trained internal auditors.
- Devotion of extra time is needed as there is continuous work and large volume of paper work involved.
- Funds are needed for the cost of certification and for on-going costs of maintenance.

Best Practice II

Title of the Practice:

Life work on the organizing lectures on the occasion of Birth & Deathanniversaries of Great Leaders

The context that required initiation of the practice:

One of the outstanding features of the college is that the enrolment of the students is mainly from the middle and lower middle class from the vicinity out of which 70% belong to reservation and underprivileged class. Also as has been obtained from the profile of the students joining various courses of the college it is revealed that many students who seek admission in our college belong to low economic back ground. Their parents are unable to provide them a sustained financial support.

Objectives of the practice are:

- To know about the contribution and life and work great personalities so as to get motivation and inspiration
- To inculcate leadership skill amongst the student community by giving them a platform to organize such events.
- To import value added inputs not covered in the university curriculum so as to promote holistic personality of student community.

The Practice:

In each month the birth days and the death anniversary of great of India are celebrated with an aim to sustain their distinguished legacy that ventured forth as pioneers to explore uncharted territories and became extraordinary leaders. The student communities under the guidance of in charge staff member draw up the notice, prepare programme schedule, invite the resource persons, anchor the programme and ensure that large number of students get the benefit.

Obstacles faced and strategies to overcome them:

Initially it was difficult to gather the student community for such programmes. But later on the number increased in the subsequent programmes.

Many a times, through information on great personality is available from library, the students have stage fright to do the presentation. At occasions there is a dearth of knowledgeable resource persons who can create impact on students.

Impact of the Practice:

1. Students develop positive approach and the life and works of great personality help them to shape their personality.
2. Organizing such Programmes under able guidance of the staff-in-charge, gives them a platform to develop their leadership skills.

Resource required:

Talent pool of resource persons who can throw light on the life and works of great people

Context for handwritten note:

In order to make the college student develop a positive attitude, foster the team-work spirit, motivate and inspire, it was thought prudent to celebrate the birth anniversaries and also organize events on the death anniversary of great leaders of India in the college, every month so as to make students develop perspective, become effective be educated and well-informed.

2. To finalize the topics for 'Avishkar'.

Discussion: Avishkar is one of the research festival to inculcate research culture among students and to encourage original and novel thinking, so it is important to encourage and guide the students for participating in 'Avishkar'- University Level Research Project Competition.

Dr. Manjusha m. Kulkarni made an appeal to all the members to encourage and guide the students of the respective departments to participate in 'Avishkar'- University Level Research Project Competition.

3. To avail the Instrumentation facility for the staff members to carry out their research work.

Discussion: To motivate students and teachers for collaborative inter disciplinary research work by making available the facility of Instruments from various departments.

4. To motivate and inspire young teachers to appear for PET exam and to pursue their M. Phil., Ph. D. under FIP.

Discussion: As it is the need of the time, it is very important to remain updated in the research, so the young teachers must appear for PET examination conducted by S. P. P. U. This will help them to acquire their highest qualification such as Ph. D. As PG students may seek Ph. D. in the future, an inclination towards research has to be cultivated. So the staff members should guide the students on this aspect.

Approved and passed unanimously.

Gosavi Foundation, Mumbai as a part of QIP and IQAC Cell of the College. About Trello: Trello is a visual-based project management tool that applies Japanese productivity methodology KANBAN. It is a way of organizing information and tasks. Whether you are at work, at home, or anywhere in between, all the stakeholders can collaborate and organize their tasks and activities. Trello creates the transparency and openness between staff members. As the trello board is visible to all, it becomes easy to find out a particular member who is not pulling his/her weight. After using Trello people will start completing their tasks within the due date as their faces are stuck to the card for all to see. It means that there will be remarkable improvement in the time and task management skills of the staff members of college. The IQAC Coordinator or Admin, at any point of time can provides updates of the overall activities of the college. He/She will have all the resources, links and tasks available in one place. Trello will give a visual overview of what is being worked on and who is working on it. This keeps everyone accountable to do their work. Using Trello in this way obviates the need to meet everyone in person for collecting information and provides a central space where all communications can be stored and organized. Trello can improve everyday operations and overall performance of college tremendously and can help all of us to understand the importance of deadlines, project management, and persistence.

Looking at the 'Self' as only a threshold, a becoming between two multiplicities, she said how colonial people are constantly in a phase of transition, they are constantly changing, asserting and trying to find a foothold finally concluding that the predicament is quite the same for men and women both, as both are conforming to a certain societal construct.

The second talk was given by Dr. Sucharita Sarkar who theorised Motherhood Studies, a contemporary area under Gender Studies. Her talk was entitled "Introducing Motherhood Studies through Feminist Theories of Culture, Body and Media". She took the audience through an overview of the history of Motherhood Studies, some noted critics and theorists of the area and went on to problematise the notion of motherhood by critically evaluating the discourse around Motherhood and Maternity. She analysed how Motherhood as an institution is very different from motherhood as a lived experience and how maternity or the absence of it becomes central to the identity and existence of women which needs to be contested and resisted. She familiarised participants with the process of de-essentialisation of motherhood and emphasised on the need for the word 'mother' to become a verb rather than a gendered noun, implying that mothering or care giving should be undertaken by more and more people other than the biological mother so that the ambivalent feelings of joy and frustration that a mother experiences can be overcome and the mother can think beyond her child and her relative and functional existence only as a mother.

The third talk was delivered by Dr. Sachin Labade from the Department of English, University of Mumbai who spoke on Queer Theory and its applications. His talk entitled "Demystifying the Queer: from Apprehension to Appreciation" intended to do the exact same thing. He spoke about the need to naturalise the queer and mainstreaming it. He started with Michael Foucault's idea of Knowledge is Power and through this thread traced the problematic and stigmatised discourse around the queer. He said that the interesting thing that Queer Theory does is
